What Is Outsourcing?

According to Forbes, outsourcing is a good option as 'an alternative and cost-effective way to grow and fill functional needs...The reality is the number of businesses implementing offshore teams will only increase in the future.' And according to a Statista report, 'the BPO industry is projected to have a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 6.69%.'

Who Cares??? We're Doing Pretty Good

You may feel like things are working while you are enjoying the cushy bubble that you are in. However, outsourcing is affecting your business whether you're engaging in it or not.

Between technology and direct competitors, your market share is constantly dwindling. If you are not being innovative with how you serve your customers, your sustainability will be on the line

Each quarter you will continue to have expectations, milestones and deliverables to elevate your company financially, operationally and organically

Executive

If you are not aware of how other resources outside your immediate region are performing, you will soon find yourself defeated by an invisible competitor

What Happens to My Team Client Perspective

The myth is that when a company outsources that it will therefore terminate existing employees. Although this does happen within the organization (like any other restructuring or company change), the goal of effective outsourcing is to amplify the organization thus better leveraging all resources

Terminate or Transcend

How To Support the Transition Vendor Perspective

Knowing that cost & resource management is going to be a major factor when working with you, ensure your approach and mindset is not one of 'we will do it all' which can make the client feel like they have to take drastic measures just to conform to your workflow and operational structure

How to Make It Work Peacefully. Productively. Efficiently.

Client Perspective

Identify. Vet. Test.

With so many avenues that can be taken to outsource some or all of your business needs, first start with your priority. Then vet a few companies whose services & mission align with your vision. Begin a pilot with them to see if their solution will meet your needs now and for the future.

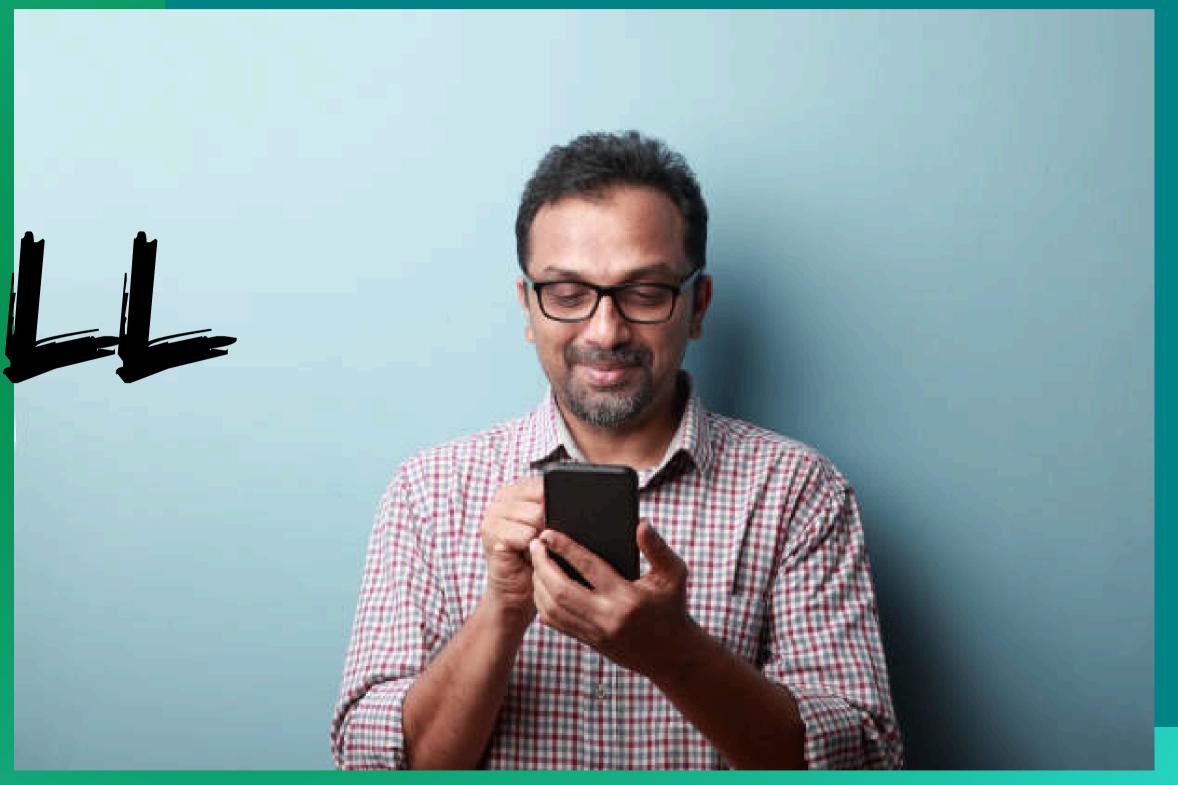

Vendor Perspective

Finetune. Solidify. Share.

Rather than trying to solve all of your industry's problems, fine-tune your core service offering so that you can be a master at it. Then solidify your operations and client onboarding process. Lastly, share what you are learning consistently to the public to begin the right conversations.
